FOREWORD

St. James's Auctions are pleased to present Auction 77, The Premier Sale.

The sale commences with an interesting group of ancient and Islamic coins, followed by a nice selection of English coins. Of particular note in the English section is a William and Mary five guineas, dated 1692 from the St. Albans Collection (lot 47). Moving on to the coins of Victoria, we are pleased to offer the desirable 'Bonomi crown', dated 1837 which is certified and graded by NGC as Mint State 63 (lot 77), as well as two proof Gothic crowns, one of which is certified and graded by NGC as Proof 62 (lot 78), while the other is extremely fine (lot 79). Also on offer is the exceedingly rare pattern gold proof farthing of 1860 by Weyl, with a plain edge, certified and graded by PCGS as Proof 66 Deep Cameo, of which only 3-5 examples are thought to exist, and this example is particularly pleasing (lot 91). Also offered is a particularly high graded example of a 1911 five pounds which is certified and graded by NGC as Proof 66 Cameo (lot 97).

We are pleased to offer two good groups of modern coins of Elizabeth II, firstly in lots 110-134 and second in The Royal Collection from lots 299-430. The sale also includes The Maundy Collection of the Late David Ayers. David was an avid collector of Maundy sets and often gave talks on the coins, using his collection for illustrative purposes (lot 135 to 152).

An important group of items presented to Baron Howe of Aberavon also features in the auction. He served under Margaret Thatcher's government as Chancellor of the Exchequer, a role which incorporated Master of the Mint (lots 153 to 163). This includes two lots comprised of banknotes with very early serial numbers (lots 162 and 163), further banknotes can be found at the end of the auction (from lot 264 to 298).

We are also pleased to offer a nice group of American coins, including some Californian fractional gold, and come Carlson City dollars (lots 228 to 250).

A spectacular Fabergé egg is also offered for sale within The Royal Collection, crafted in 2006 by master craftsman Victor Mayer for the 80th Birthday of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, it is one of only 26 produced. Crafted in canary yellow 18ct. gold and rich royal blue enamel, featuring a large ruby in the crown, the piece is visually striking. Inside the outer egg, is a small diamond set red enamelled egg, designed with a Tudor rose to the centre, this can be removed from the egg mount and placed onto the included diamond encrusted chain (lot 433).

The sale concludes with a selection of silver and world coins and bank notes which formed the start of The Royal Collection, before the more modern additions.

We hope that you enjoy adding to your collection, if you are unable to attend the sale, you can bid through our website www.stjauctions.com or our app, or leave bids via www.sixbid.com or www.numisbids.com

ANCIENT COINS

1. Sassanian, Shapur I, gold dinar, bust right, wearing diadem and mural crown with korymbos, rev. fire altar flanked by attendants, wt. 7.47gms. (Gobl 1/1), about extremely fine £2500-3500

The Persian king of the Sassanian Dynasty, Shapur I, was able to defeat the Roman Emperor Valerian at Edessa. The two empires had been at war for much time, and Shapur was able to take advantage of the chaotic Crisis of the Third Century. When Valerian was defeated, Shapur I kept him captive for the remainder of his life and the defeat has made for inspiration for the celebratory rock carvings at Fārs. The carvings date to 260 CE and show the defeated emperor bowing to the victorious Shapur, who is crowned on horseback. Legend says that Shapur would use Valerian as a footstool each time he mounted his horse, and once he had died, Shapur had him stuffed and displayed. This, a wonderful coin with rich canary yellow surfaces, recalls the power of the king who defeated a Roman emperor.

2. Attica, Athens, tetradrachm, c. 440-404 BC, mid-mass coinage issue, head of Athena right, wearing earring, necklace, and crested Attic helmet ornamented with three laurel leaves and vine scroll, rev. AΘE, owl standing right, head facing, olive sprig with two leaves and one berry, and crescent moon behind, all within incuse square, wt. 17.13gms. Gold coins were not the currency used by ordinary subjects prior to the 18th century, when commerce flourished for the nation as a whole as the Industrial Revolution changed the course of history forever. At the end of the 17th century, when this coin was struck, its intended use was primarily at court, with the landed gentry, and by banks, just then becoming established as true institutions. The value represented by five guineas in gold was just staggering by most people's estimation, equal to the earnings of months of labour for the common man. Gold coins were made in limited numbers, the metal itself being scarce, but in fact they offered the finest 'advertising' of the country's wealth, both at home and abroad. For this purpose, the portraiture and a new style of reverse (with seashells beside a crowned royal shield, replacing the cruciform of the previous two reigns' large gold) were provided for a pair of monarchs. The engraving was performed by James and Norbert Roettiers, whose father, John, was on the verge of retirement by the early 1690s. There was cause for this kind of special design: old James II's abdication, for the sake of his Catholic vows, paved the way for new blood mixed with the old, Mary II being his eldest daughter, married to the Protestant William of Orange. New faces, a crisp and different royal badge on the reverse of their coins, and fate was sealed: the pair accepted the offer of the throne by signing a Declaration of Rights. This established the supremacy of Parliament and issued in a new era of politics dominating the old monarchical rights and privileges. And yet, no coin ever looked more royal than this splendidly designed, huge piece of golden money.

Of deep mahogany colour, practically as struck and of the highest rarity.

This pattern was unknown to Crowther in 1886. One example in silver is now known and two in bronzed copper, all of them from the Norweb collection. One of the copper examples (this piece) was sold in the Norweb auctions, the whereabouts of the other is no longer known.

71. G Victoria, sovereign, 1838, first young head left, rev. crowned shield of arms within wreath (S.3852; M.22), certified and graded by NGC as Extremely Fine 45 £1300-1600

Popular first date of currency issue.

72. G Victoria, proof sovereign, 1839, plain edge, die axis ↑↑, young head left, rev. crowned shield of arms (S.3852), certified and graded by NGC as Proof 63 Ultra Cameo £6000-9000
A very choice coin, seems undergraded

73. G Victoria, sovereign, 1848, first small young head left, rev. crowned shield within wreath (S.3852; Marsh 31a; Rarity level of at least 2, based on so few being graded, perhaps a rarity of 3 or 4 is more appropriate), certified and graded by NGC as About Uncirculated 53, with two dark tone spots to upper neck on portrait, die or strike to obverse between A of Victoria and F of DEI, a good strike to reverse, slightly mottled toning to field £2500-3000
bt. London Coin Auctions, 150, lot 2967, 6 September 2015 for a hammer price of £2600.

In the Bentley collection (an example of the above coin was Bentley lot 55), the type was described as an 'unsung great rarity'. The catalogue ponders the reason behind its rarity, contemplating the Royal Mint Commission that took place in 1848 which investigated ways to improve the die and matrix production. Perhaps the larger head was introduced as a result of the committee. The larger head may have resulted to less wear and tear to the die, as the surface of the coin was more evenly filled, thus reducing strain in the striking, therefore extending the life of the die.

An extremely rare issue with the first small young head.

Only one example is graded higher by NGC, a total of 3 examples are graded.

Only 7 coins are graded higher by PCGS, a total of 13 examples are graded.

74. G Victoria, sovereign, 1848, second young head left, rev. crowned shield within wreath (S.3852C; Marsh 31), certified and graded by PCGS as Mint State 62, bright, with some mint bloom to both sides £800-1000
 bt. London Coin Auctions, 151, lot 3070, 6 December 2015 for a hammer price of £1100.
 Variety with first I of VICTORIA with no lower serifs, but without obverse legend doubled (as was seen in Bentley lot 411).
 Was originally certified and graded by NGC as certificate number 4154380-007 in Mint State 62, now recertified by PCGS in the same grade. The certificate noting 'second head'.

75. G Victoria, sovereign, 1871, die 27, third large young head left, rev. crowned shield of arms within wreath (S.3853B; Marsh 55 type 1b), certified and graded by PCGS as Mint State 64 £700-800
 Nice in appearance, with dull mint bloom to fields on both sides. The die is flawed into neck through first 1 in date, light flaws to V and E. Die flaws are relatively common with this date / die series, but this coin shows relatively few.
 Some letters in GRATIA double struck.
 Better than the example in the Bentley Collection (lot 234, of the same die).
 Only 11 coins are graded higher by PCGS.

78. Victoria, proof 'Gothic' crown, 1847, UNDECIMO, young bust left, rev. crowned cruciform shields (S.3883), certified and graded by NGC as Proof 62 £6000-8000

Sold with original invoice of purchase from Lloyd Bennett, June '89, for £550.

A coin benefiting from recent rising popularity. Created by the engraver William Wyon at the very height of his career, the portrait design is a stunning rendition of the young queen, while the reverse is highly intricate. Collected by numismatists from the time of its issue to the modern day, a historical beauty.

Adolph Weyl of Germany was the force behind the creation of a series of suggested patterns for Victoria's late Young Head and early Jubilee Head coinage—pennies, halfpennies and farthings dated 1860 and 1887. All were engraved and die-sunk by the Lauer family firm of Nuremberg. In the case of the 1860-dated pieces, the patterns suggest an adherence to tradition tempered by what is best described as an imaginative reawakening. Victoria's portrait has been slightly altered from the classic by William Wyon, chief engraver of the Royal Mint, in use since 1837: the curls of her hair and its bun have been made higher and wavier, subtly confirming her relative youth more than twenty years after the portrait was first modeled. For the farthing, as seen here, Britannia was replaced on the reverse by a classic but ornate cruciform on one shield of which Weyl inserted "animals of the empire" (elephant, seal and kangaroo). Peck suggested that these patterns were thus intended for use in the homeland and in British colonies or dominions. The reverse legend supports this concept. The beautiful, deeply engraved reverse, a circular shield, features scallops facing inward (two in each angle of the open field) with a pair of roses, a thistle, and a shamrock balancing the design. At centre is a delicate four-leaved flower, its ends just touching the points of the shields. Each shield is topped by a crown. All in all, it is a splendid unifying motif. Legends are all in English. This too suggests a worldwide intention, abbreviated legends in Latin having a homeland origin and tradition. Although Weyl's patterns were never accorded official status by the Royal Mint, and most likely were all struck as late as 1904 (for which Peck gives evidence), they have been embraced by collectors for more than a century as exquisite patterns that celebrate Victoria and her era. This farthing in gold also exists with a straight-grained, or reeded, edge. Each is so elusive that, normally, it cannot be collected. This lot represents an extremely rare chance to acquire what can only be described as a numismatic treasure.

bt. LCA Auction, 155, December 2016, lot 805, in an NGC holder certified and graded as Proof 65 Cameo, this holder was scratched so the coin was resubmitted to PCGS for grading.

Lightly toned obverse around rim, mainly light blue/rainbow at the edges. The higher grade examples usually don't have surface toning. Obverse image with superb frosting. Reverse design also with good frosting, heavier than normally seen on this proof crown. It is difficult to judge if this coin is a VIP proof crown, which are usually associated with heavier frosting on the reverse, this Bull 4022, nevertheless, a superb, frosted example.

105. George VI, VIP frosted proof crown, Festival of Britain, 1951, cupro-nickel, head left, rev. St. George and the dragon (S.4111; Bull/ESC.4025, rarity R4, only 11-20 known examples, likely 12-15 total), certified and graded by PCGS as Proof 65+ Deep Cameo £2500-3000

*ex A. H. Baldwin Vault, purchased 2006

bt. Sovereign Rarities, 2017, privately, in an NGC holder graded Proof 65 Ultra Cameo. PCGS deemed that the coin was a higher grade than NGC, which is not surprising, due to the fantastic toning (so called 'plus grades' exhibit exceptional eye appeal for the grade and constitute the top 30% of coins in their grade.)

Only one example is graded higher by PCGS, which is graded Proof 66 Deep Cameo. The certificate noting 'Frosted VIP'.

Superb, with light rainbow toning to obverse, to mirror like fields with heavy frosting of images to both sides.

Note that this VIP crown was produced with one of the 1899 crown die reverses, with horizontal lines on the ground above the exergue. From the Collector's research, he notes that this was the only reverse die used for the VIP crown.

A very rare coin. Very few 1951 VIP crowns appeared at auction in the last 10 years.

108. Elizabeth II, VIP proof crown, 1960, laureate head right, rev. crown in centre of emblematic cross, shield of arms in each angle (S.4143; ESC.393M), certified and graded by NGC as Proof 65 British Exhibition VIP £2500-3500
109. Elizabeth II, 'Churchill' crown, 1965, laureate bust right, rev. Winston Churchill (S.4144; Bull/ESC.4339), certified and graded by PCGS as Mint State 66 £100-150

The highest grade awarded by PCGS. Very light mint bloom toning both sides, but especially to the Churchill reverse, rare in such good condition.

This grade is easily confused with the 'satin proof' variety, especially as the reverse die is identical (the so called 'Thin CH' die variety, easily identified by the 'short/thick' shape of the interior top part of the R of Churchill), to the reverse die type of the satin proof crown.

A very clean and rare example, rarely offered for auction.

THE MAUNDY COLLECTION OF THE LATE DAVID AYERS

David was an avid collector of Maundy sets, and he loved to give talks on them, often taking his carefully labelled display cases with him to share his collection with others. He was booked to give talk on 'Maundy Thursday', often for years in advance. The following Maundy Sets formed his treasured collection.

135. Charles II, Maundy set, undated, fourpence to penny, laureate and draped bust right, rev. crowned interlinked Cs denoting value (S.3391), all certified and graded by NGC, the fourpence as Mint State 62, the threepence as About Uncirculated 55, the twopence as About Uncirculated Details, Obverse Scratched, the penny as Mint State 64 (4) £350-450

136. Anne, Maundy set, 1706, fourpence to penny, draped bust left, rev. crowned value (S.3599), threepence with damage to rim at 6 o'clock from obverse, light scratches, about extremely fine (4) £200-250

137. George II, Maundy set, 1746, fourpence to penny, laureate and draped bust left, rev. crowned value (S.3716), toned, about uncirculated (4) £275-375

138. George III, Maundy set, 1772, fourpence to penny, laureate and draped bust right, rev. crowned value (S.3762), fourpence with nick above D of DEI, some light scratches, toned, lustrous, good very fine (4) £200-250

139. George III, Maundy set, 1792, 'wire money', fourpence to penny, laureate and draped bust right, rev. crowned mark of value (S.3763; ESC.2419), some toning, the fourpence and threepence deeper, the fourpence scratched to fields on reverse, very fine to good very fine (4) £275-375

252. John Maitland, Second Earl and First Duke of Lauderdale (1616-1682), silver medal, 1672, by John Roettier, believed struck to commemorate the latter appointment, bust of the Duke right, his hair long and curled, in armour with lion shoulder plate, rev. Minerva std. with shield, spear and crested helmet, in ex. signed and dated, CONSILIO ET ANIMIS, 62mm. (MI.550/208; Eimer 248; CP.100/10; Platt II, 212), very fine with pleasing portrait and tone, the usual die flaw on obverse above the bust £700-900

Lauderdale's career had started in the reign of Charles I and, although a party to the King's surrender at Newcastle, he was against his imprisonment. Captured at the Battle of Worcester, he spent the period of the Commonwealth in confinement, being appointed Secretary of State at the Restoration and later High Commissioner of Scotland, virtually ruling that country from 1669 to 1680. One of his various titles was Baron Petersham and he lived in the village at Ham House, now a National Trust property.

The medal believed to celebrate the proclamation of Giovanni as Prince of the Republic of Bologna.

261. Italy [Holy Roman Empire], Maximilian I (1459-1519) as Duke of Austria and Burgundy and Mary (1457-1482) Duchess of Burgundy, cast bronze medal, c.1477, traditionally said to be to celebrate of their marriage, attributed to Giovanni Filangieri Candida (c.1445-50 – c.1498-99), his bust right, with shoulder-length flowing hair held by a band, MAXIMILIANVS FR CAE S F DVX AVSTR BVRGVND, rev. draped bust of Mary right, her hair tied up, crowned double-M cypher to left, MARIA KAROLI F DVX BVRGVN[D]IAE AVSTRIAE BRAB C FLAN, 47mm. (Hill, Corpus 831; Arm II, 80, 3; Pollard [2007] 259 = Kress 225; Bargello 187; Scher, Currency of Fame 37, 37a), a well patinated contemporary cast on thin flan, single piercing (to top of obverse, bottom of reverse), very fine £400-600
Purchased Spink & Son, mid-1970's

Maximilian and Mary were initially married by proxy on 22 April 1477 and a public announcement made six days later. Maximilian had left Vienna for Ghent on 31 May, arriving on 18 August. They were married in person on the following day.

The attribution to Candida is very strong. He was secretary to Mary's father, Charles the Bold, and had been in his service since 1467. He was on a mission abroad when Charles was killed at the Battle of Nancy on 5 January 1477, but arrived back in Ghent two days before the wedding. He then became secretary to the ducal couple and resumed his travels the following year.

The medal was to become the model for the design of the Schauguldiner of Maximilian I issued c.1517.

263. Russia, Catherine II, the Great (1729-1762-1796), Inauguration of the Peter the Great Monument in St. Petersburg, silver medal, 1782, by P. Bobrovshikov and (rev.) J. G. Waechter, bust left, in low cut dress, Badges of two Orders hang from Sash, signed with initial on truncation of sleeve, without legend, rev. equestrian statue, Peter I on a rearing horse, atop a massive granite rock, on which are the names of Peter I and Catherine, in ex. the inaugural date, 66mm. (Diakov 194.3, R²; Sm.291/b), steel grey tone, the scratches noticeable but faint on reverse only and not disfiguring, certified and graded by NGC as Uncirculated, Details – Reverse Scratched, extremely rare £2500-3500

The famous 'Bronze Horseman' is the work of Étienne Maurice Falconet (1716–1791), who was invited to Russia by Catherine in 1766. The lengthy work was achieved with the help of his assistant Emelyan Khailov and his pupil and step-daughter, Marie-Anne Collot. It is believed that it is she who modelled the head. When it came to the inauguration by Catherine, on 7 August 1782, Falconet had returned to France, however he was sent two specimens of this medal, one in gold and one silver.

In the curious way of Russian medals, this same medal was struck in 8 varieties, in 5 sizes and involving 6 medallists.

An example of the largest (80.5mm.) and extremely rare silver medal was recently sold in Monte Carlo by MDC Monnaies de Collection sarl, 29 October 2020, lot 1045 and realised €19,000).

(1) St. James's Auctions Limited [the Company] acts as agent for the seller. Sales made by the Company at public auction are sales made on behalf of the seller.

(2) The buyer of any lot will be the highest bidder. In the event of any dispute, the auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle the dispute as he thinks best; this may mean re-offering the lot for sale.

(3) The auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to divide any lot, combine two or more lots or withdraw any lot or lots without giving any reason. In the case of a dispute, he may re-offer a lot for sale. The auctioneer also has the right to refuse any bid or bids without giving a reason.

(4) The Company and auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to refuse admission to their premises or attendance at their auction of any person they deem unsuitable, without giving any reason for, or prior notice of, their action.

(5) The minimum increment between bids will normally be 5%. The auctioneer has the right to refuse any bid which is not in line with this increase. He also has absolute discretion to vary this increment as he sees fit.

(6) All lots are subject to a Buyer's Premium of 20.00%, exclusive of VAT, (24%) inclusive of VAT if the buyer is resident in the UK). The symbol 'G' appearing next to a lot indicates the item is 'Investment Gold' and therefore a VAT-registered trader can submit a claim to HM Revenue and Customs to recover the VAT element of the Buyer's Premium. In the case of a lot marked with a dagger (†), import VAT at 5% will be added to the hammer price and will be payable by the buyer if resident in the UK. If the lot is being exported outside the UK, this import VAT can be waived or refunded on proof of export. All lots bought via the bidding platform Auction Mobility are subject to an additional charge of 1.25%, exclusive of VAT, (1.5% inclusive of VAT if the buyer is resident in the UK)

(7) Each bidder shall be deemed to act as principal unless the Company acknowledges in writing prior to the auction that he acts as agent for a named third-party principal. For bidders unable to attend the auction in person, commissions will be executed free-of-charge. Such bids must be written and must be received at least 24 hours before the sale begins. The Company cannot guarantee to execute bids received less than 24 hours before the sale. 'Buy' bids will not be accepted. The Company shall not be liable for any errors or omissions in executing such commissions.

(8) All buyers must, if requested, notify their name and address to the auctioneer and, if required, provide additional proof of identification, bank references or other credit references. All buyers must pay the full purchase price, at the point of collection of purchases, or a fractional deposit as may be determined at the auctioneer's discretion, unless the Company has previously arranged credit terms. Seven working days must be allowed for clearance of personal cheques before delivery can be made unless a prior agreement has been reached. A 2.5% surcharge will be applied to all company cards and non-UK credit card payments.

(9) Ownership of lots does not pass to the buyer until the Company has received payment in full.

(10) All lots, however, are held to be at the buyer's risk from the fall of the hammer. All lots shall be removed by the buyer within seven working days after the date of the sale. Any lots not so removed may become liable to removal, insurance and storage charges. Such lots may, at the auctioneer's discretion, be re-offered for sale at auction or by private treaty without further notice to the buyer.

(11) All lots are offered for sale subject to any reserve price that may be imposed by the seller. The seller may not subsequently change the reserve without the agreement of the Company. Where a reserve has been set, only the auctioneer may bid on behalf of the seller. Lots are normally reserved at 80% of lower estimate, with auctioneer's discretion. Unless reoffered for sale, the collection of unsold lots shall be the responsibility of the seller.

(12) (a) Lots are sold as shown with all faults, imperfections and errors of description and lack of authenticity. The Sale of Goods Act 1979 does not apply to the sale of any lot. Neither the Company nor the seller shall give any warranty to any buyer in respect of any lot or be liable for any fault or error of description or lack of genuineness or authenticity of any lot. All statements as to items sold, whether made in catalogues, during the course of the auction or otherwise, are statements of opinion only and are not and shall not be taken to be statements or representations of fact. The Company reserve the right in forming their opinion to consult and rely upon any expert or authority considered by them to be reliable. Coins are graded to accepted UK standards to the best ability of our specialists. You acknowledge that the grading of coins is subjective and may vary from specialist to specialist, as the process is by nature an art and not a science. For this reason, we do not automatically accept and are not bound by the opinions of third party coin grading services for any purposes including before and after the sale of a lot.

(b) Refund policy – notwithstanding the foregoing, if any lot should be proved by the buyer to be not genuine or authentic, or to have been wrongly described in any material respect, the buyer may reject the same provided that he has given notice in writing of his intention so to do and shall have returned the same to the Company within one month from, and in the same condition, as at the date of sale. If the coin was in a plastic holder at the time of sale, we cannot accept its return if it has been removed from that holder. In addition, any items in graded holders are sold as is and can only be returned if deemed as fake. The onus of proving a lot to be not genuine or authentic or to have been wrongly described shall lie with the buyer. Proof of the inability of any recognised expert or authority to express a definite opinion shall not discharge such onus. If the buyer shall discharge such onus, the auctioneers shall rescind the sale and repay to the buyer the price paid by him. Save as provided herein, the Company shall not under any circumstances whatsoever be liable for any costs, expenses or damages (whether direct, indirect, special or consequential) incurred or suffered by the buyer in respect of any lot, whether or not as a result of any fault, imperfection, error or description or lack of genuineness or authenticity, including but not limited to loss of any kind of profit whatsoever. The buyer will not be entitled to claim interest on the amount due to him. The buyer shall not be entitled to a refund for any lot for any reason save as set out in this clause 12(b).

(13) Save as provided in the preceding paragraph of these conditions buyers must satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of their purchases at the time of delivery. The Company cannot be held responsible for any discrepancy which might be discovered after the lots have been removed from either the auction room or the auctioneers' premises.

(14) As stated in paragraph (1), the Company acts solely as agent between buyer and seller and shall not be held responsible for any default by either party or for any action or claim that may arise in connection with any lot.

(15) Any part of the purchase price still outstanding after the auction, in line with the terms of paragraph (8), shall be paid in full within thirty days of the date of the auction. Without prejudice to any other rights, the Company reserves the right to charge interest on any overdue payment at a rate of three per cent per month. In the event that the company shall have paid the seller (normally 35 days after the sale) and part of the purchase price is still outstanding, title to the lot will pass to the Company. The Company shall then have the right to sell any other goods belonging to the buyer and held by the Company for whatever reason at such a price that the company, in its absolute discretion, thinks fit. The buyer shall also reimburse the Company for any additional costs incurred in this process.

(16) Buyers accepting commissions from third parties do so at their own risk. They remain responsible to the Company for full settlement according to these conditions

(17) Privacy Policy - We may collect and process information you give to us such as your name, address and references. We will use this information to carry out our obligations arising from any contracts entered into between you and us and to provide you with the information, products and services that you request from us or that we offer. We may share your personal information with any member of our group, which means our subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries, as defined in section 1159 of the UK Companies Act 2006. We may disclose your personal information to third parties in the event we sell or buy any business or assets in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer or such business or assets or if we are under a duty to disclosure or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation or in order to enforce or apply our terms of use. You have the right to ask us not to process your personal data for marketing purposes.

(18) By making a bid, the buyer acknowledges his acceptance of these conditions and agrees to be bound by them.

(19) If any buyer fails to comply with any of these Conditions, the lot or lots in respect of which the failure is made may at the discretion of the Company be put up again and resold. The damages recoverable from the defaulting buyer shall include, but not be limited to, the auctioneers' expenses and commission in respect of the resale and the amount (if any) by which the price obtained on the resale is exceeded by that obtained on the first sale.

(20) A variation of these Conditions shall only be binding on the Company and the seller if it is made in writing and signed by a duly authorised representative of the Company.

(21) These Conditions shall take effect and be construed in accordance with the provisions of English law.
